Worx: The Remixes Defend

The German duo of Christian Prommer and Roland Appel have had a long career and felt it was time to showcase their "Worx" to the world. With a wide selection of calm and melodic remixes of Fon-Kin to the heavy hitting techno redo of "Rivera Rotation," we see a recurring production style and attitude that holds up to their name. The genres may change but the workmanship of blending dub, house latin and soulful fundamentals gives each remix its signature quality. Even though the duo hasn't had any releases since their 2001 Fusion, their attention seems to be pointed in the direction of side projects like Voom:Voom. Along with G-Stone Peter Kruder the long awaited release of the Trio debut "Elevator Music." Needless to say they have been glued to the production room chairs manipulating beats for their ever-demanding fans. (Compost, www.compost-records.com) Oxide
