Review: Intense - Bohemian Pimp Project

Danielle Rose	10/05/05
I'd be crazy if I told you not to go pick up "The Bohemian Pimp Project." Intense, the man behind the album has a knack for the hip-hop game. This is the hot shit so many emcees lack nowadays, and Intense comes off strong with beats that are on point along with his ultra tough delivery. His lyrics are straight up dope, and I am havin trouble tryin not to jock this album too hard. This is his first solo album stemming from the Philly based underground group Schoolz of Thought. Intense and Schoolz of Thought toured with artists such as Talib Kweli, De La Soul, Les Nubians and Kool Keith. He has maintained a distinguished resume and clean cut authenticity as an emcee. I suggest if you can see him perform, do it. If you can listen to this album, please do. Whatever you do, don't sleep.
