

The Examiner.

San Francisco Examiner
Summer 2004

“Danish singer/songwriter Tina Dico got her break last year when she collaborated with Zero 7 on their recently release second album, ‘When it Falls.’ Dico’s airy vocals, which Billboard magazine compared to Joni Mitchell, give the British duo’s organic flavor of chill-out an even more pronounced warmth. For her latest solo release, Dico treads confidently into beautiful folk-pop territory or, as Dico herself describes it, ‘ambient folk,’ using intimate, heartfelt lyrics and tranquil acoustic arrangements to relate personal stories of love and relationships.”